Description:

The function of a jig and/or fixture (fixturing system) is to hold a work piece firmly in position during a manufacturing process. Most of the papers published have centred on the micro aspects of fixture design that addressed singular problems; various areas related to design of fixtures have already been very well described by various renowned authors, but there is a need to couple and apply all these research works to an industrial application. The work presented in this research integrates all these aspects and the evolutionary functional approach of designed fixture is proved from the fact that a real industrial component is considered for fixture designing.

Presenter:

Dr. Maniar Nirav Pravinchandra Assistant Professor,
Mechanical Engineering Department, V. V. P. Engineering College,
